A Greater Story - Podcast

As we lead the next generation it is impossible to help them find their voice if we haven't found our own

What is your voice? Use the same strategy to help others.

We can't help people unlock the door to things we haven't locked yet.

The Power of Influence

"the best way to find your voice is to create an atmosphere around you where your voice can be found"

If you can just get in the right climate, your voice will just emerge

We can't see what is already around us, we are in the wrong atmosphere. We didn't see.

Anything that is around us will influence if we are around it enough.

Something is influencing you whether you like it or not. You are the sum total of your influences.

Do you know what they are? Have you taken control of what influences us?

We don't realize what is influencing us.

1. Friends

- Some of you aren't where you want to be and haven't found your voice because your friends suck.
- Who do you spend your time with when you are at work?
- What are the conversations that you are having? Are they somewhere you want to be?
- Some of us are 1 friend away from unlocking our destiny
- Our desire to fit in often outweighs our desire to stand out, therefore we become what the atmosphere of our friend group demands.
- If you hang out with successful people you'll accidentally become successful
- Who are the leaders you are hanging around with? Doing what you want to do?
- We'll trade greatness for acceptance.
- When it is time to go higher, if our friend group isn't reaching higher, we'll stay down there with them.
- Our thoughts are usually not strong enough to overcome the collective thoughts of friends.
- Our decisions are highly impacted by the words and beliefs of our friends.

Find FRIENDS that make you better.

2. Leaders

- Our thoughts about ourselves and our futures are heavily influenced by our leaders.
- A Leader: parents, bosses, mentors above you and in authority charged with the task of stewardship. You made the conscience decision to be in submission too.
- If you don't believe it it will never happen
- Our decisions can lead to great success under the right leader.

- Can you believe in them until they believe in themselves
- You're in a cage, and you're made for the jungle.
- We let loyalty get in the way of destiny, so we submit to disfunction and disorder

get under the right leadership

• Followers

- When you discover why people are following, you'll discover your true hidden power.
